What is the PIP?

The PIP provides a number of incentives that aim to encourage general practices to improve the quality of care provided to patients. Practices must be accredited or registered for accreditation against the Royal Australian College of General Practitioners (RACGP) Standards for general practices to participate in the PIP.

The PIP is administered by the Australian Government Department of Human Services on behalf of the Australian Government Department of Health.

PIP - Information

About this page

This page contains information about your practice details for the Practice Incentives Program (PIP) and the actions you are required to take.

Practice Type Information

Your Practice type has been set to General Practice. This is based on information held by the Australian Government Department of Human Services for your practice.

Practice Types can be set to one of the following:

- General Practice
- Aboriginal Medical Service
- Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Service

Please update your practice type if it is not correct. You can do this on the Practice Summary screen

Australian Business Number (ABN)

Practices are required to enter their Australian Business Number (ABN) on the Ownership Details page.

Your 11 digit ABN will be validated against the Australian Business register.

You can check your practice ABN on the Australian Business register website
