General practitioners (GPs) and primary care mental health nurses are invited to express their interest in participating in the Isaac Suicide Prevention Focus Group.

The Mayor's Suicide Prevention Taskforce is exploring community-based solutions in response to industry and community concerns for residents who are experiencing mental health distress, may be at risk of suicide, and have difficulties navigating and accessing appropriate services and health care.

Northern Queensland Primary Health Network have partnered with the Isaac Regional Council, and the Mackay Hospital and Health Service to provide GPs and primary care mental health nurses an opportunity to participate in this very important conversation.

Register to attend by completing the online expression of interest (EOI) registration form.

A light supper will be provided.
