The Nutrition Support Program is a nationally accredited program and is fully funded by the federal Department of Health under the Chronic Disease Project.

Date: Friday, 9 March 2018
8.45am - approx. 4.30pm

Venue: JCU Training Room
Level 3, Building 500
James Cook University
1 James Cook Drive
TOWNSVILLE, QLD 4810

Cost: No Cost (registration essential – see below)

Register early as places are limited and will fill quickly.
To register - CLICK HERE

The Nutrition Support Program is designed to provide skills and knowledge for a range of health professionals and others working within Indigenous Health to provide detailed information and advice in relation to nutrition and dietary management.

On the successful completion of the program, participants should have the ability to organise appropriate resources for dietary education and assist with the provision of basic and scripted dietary and nutrition information for the client.

Students will be able to demonstrate appropriate strategies to monitor a clients response to the information and education and comply with the instructions of the Dietitian and be aware of protocols for client documentation.

Having a good knowledge and understanding of the principles of nutritional requirements and the body systems, students can recognise how human behaviour and cultural factors may influence our diets.

The Nutrition Support Program has been endorsed by the Australian Primary Health Care Nurses Association (APNA) according to approved quality standards criteria.

Successful completion of this educational activity entitles eligible participants to claim 12 CPD hours.

Normally $425.00 per Participant. Register NOW for FREE