National Advance Care Directive Prevalence Study

Play your part in pioneering research

Advance Care Planning Australia is inviting GP clinics, aged care providers and hospitals to participate in the National Advance Care Directive Prevalence Study 2018. Join us in building a national picture of the prevalence of Advance Care Directives and other advance care planning documentation across Australia's health care services.

Find out how you can get involved at advancecareplanning.org.au/prevalence