CPD FACE TO FACE:
WOUND MANAGEMENT
UPDATE

This face-to-face course is conducted over two days and is equivalent to 14 continuing professional development (CPD) hours*.

Who should attend?
The course is designed for registered and enrolled nurses from all health sectors, who are engaged in providing wound care to patients or residents.

This is an in-depth review of pathophysiology, pharmacology, assessment strategies, clinical aetiologies and interventions.

Key learning outcomes
On completion participants will be better able to:

- Review the anatomy & physiology of the skin
- Examine the process of wound healing
- Identify factors which negatively impact on wound repair
- Detail a patient and wound assessment strategy using the HEIDI and TIME models
- Discuss recent developments in debridement and wound bed preparation
- Investigate a strategy and various tools for dressing selection
- Consider updates in both the aetiologies and clinical practice associated with skin tears, pressure injury and diabetic foot injury
- Discuss the current theories and practice recommendations involving wound infection and biofilm
- Examine advances in Negative Pressure Wound Therapy
- View emerging therapies and devices aimed to advance wound care provision and outcomes

Fees
ACN members $387
Non-members $430

Dates and locations
21-22 May 2018 Perth
4-5 June 2018 Brisbane
30-31 July 2018 Melbourne
20-21 August 2018 Dubbo
10-11 September 2018 Hobart
1-2 November 2018 Canberra
8-9 November 2018 Darwin
17-18 December 2018 Cairns

To register

Presenter name and short bio
Gary Bain
RN M ClinEd BN DipApSc MACN

Gary led the launch and implementation of the Wound Management Service for the Sydney Adventist Hospital and directed the nurse-led outpatient Wound Clinic for 25 years.

Currently in private practice as The Wound Guy, Gary provides education to medical, nursing, allied-health and product-industry personnel. He also provides clinical support to patients and their clinicians in the aged care, primary care and community sectors.

These activities are conducted concurrently with his present role as educator and nurse consultant in wound management at the Mt Wilga Private Hospital (Rehabilitation Centre).

In addition to acting as an educator and clinical advisor, he is also regularly utilised as a Master of Ceremonies and Meeting Chair in health professional meetings and events, across Australia and New Zealand.

Please refer to website for program* details.

*This program, date and location are subject to change.