Northern Queensland Primary Health Network (NQPHN) invites community members from Dysart, Clermont, Moranbah, Middlemount, Glenden, Nebo, and surrounding areas to a health roundtable.

Attendees will hear about current and future health initiatives and activities from Karin Barron, Executive Director of NQPHN Mackay, together with representatives from the Mackay Hospital and Health Service and the Isaac Regional Council.

NQPHN understands your region brims with diverse culture and history, coupled with complex and varied health needs. Attendees will also be invited to participate in an interactive, open, safe consultation with our partners and community to allow us to effectively map, plan, and commission the right service, at the right time, for your community.
